QUICK SCULPT OF JACK HANNA --VALUE: $750

BY SUNTI PICHETCHAIYAKUL

Quick sculpts are not bronzed so don't have that shelf life. They can be cast or bronzed but this package is for the actual sculpt. Born in 1972, Sunti grew up on a small farm with his parents and five elder siblings in Chumpuang, Nakhon Ratchasima, a humble village in North-eastern Thailand. Aspiring to become an artist since childhood, Sunti would sneak charcoal into his bedroom and draw pictures on his walls, making sure to wash them clean before his father returned from work. By age 16, Sunti was self-employed, beginning as a painter of temple murals, and was often hired by his art teachers to assist with projects. In 1994, Sunti graduated from Rajamangala University with a Bachelor's Degree in Fine

Arts and opened his first painting gallery at The Mall Ngamwongwan in Bangkok. Today, over a decade later, Sunti is known as "Amazing One" throughout the Siamese Kingdom for his ability to fashion life out of clay, clearly emulating, as they say, the work of an alchemist. Sunti has appeared on over 60 television shows featured in Thailand, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, and the United States, including UBC, CNN World, and America's TODAY Show, and his talent has been publicized in hundreds of magazines and newspaper issues worldwide.
